The Nursing Alliance for Quality Care (NAQC) is a bold partnership among the nation's leading nursing organizations, consumers, and other key stakeholders to advance the highest quality, safety and value of consumer-centered health care for all individuals, their families, and their communities. NAQC believes that only with stronger, more unified nursing policy 'voices' will we achieve dramatic and sustainable achievement in quality and safety for the American public.

Get your organization engaged now. Make your voices heard. Apply for NAQC membership!

Join the Conversation about Nursing's Role in Health Care Quality

As a member of NAQC your organization will be:

- Exchanging ideas with other nursing organizations on innovative solutions and strategies to promote safer care for consumers in any health care setting
- Engaging with organizations representing every member of the healthcare team in deliberations that incorporate nurses' voices in ensuring high quality care
- Signing on as organizations to draft or support public comments, letters regarding rulemaking, proposed regulations and development of measures relevant to nursing's impact on quality care for consumers
- Nominating organizational members as experts regarding national or specialty concerns, representing nursing's perspectives on quality and safety
- Attending open sessions of Board of Director meetings, in person or via conference call
- Supporting organization members to serve on NAQC sub-committees
- Accessing special publications and toolkits on the NAQC members-only section of the website for own organizational members
- Participating in special member-only meetings and events
- Benefiting from reduced registration fees to NAQC conferences, meetings, and webinars for own organizational members
- Following regular updates on NAQC activities
- Accessing summaries of Board of Director meetings
