The George Washington University does not unlawfully discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, or sexual orientation. This policy covers all programs, services, policies, and procedures of the University, including admission to education programs and employment. The University is subject to the District of Columbia Human Rights Law. Inquiries concerning application of this policy and federal laws and regulations regarding discrimination in education or employment programs and activities may be addressed to Susan B. Kaplan, Associate Vice President for Human Resources, The George Washington University, Washington, DC 20052, (202) 994-4433, or to the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights of The U.S. Department of Education, Disabled individuals who need special information should call the Office of Disability Services (202) 994-8250 (TTD/voice).

GW is committed to assisting all members of the GW community in providing for their own safety and security. The annual security compliance document is available on the UPD website at <http://gwired.gwu.edu/upd/compliance>. If you would like to receive a booklet called "The Pride Brochure" which contains this information, you can stop by the University Police Department at 2033 G Street, NW, Woodhull House, Washington, DC 20052 or you can request that a copy be mailed to you by calling (202) 994-6948. The website and booklet contain information regarding campus security and personal safety including topics such as: crime prevention, university police law enforcement authority, crime reporting policies, disciplinary procedures and other matters of importance related to security on campus. They also contain information about crime statistics for the three previous calendar years concerning reported crimes that occurred on campus; in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by GW; and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus. This information is required by law and is provided by The George Washington University Police Department.
